The Daily Sentinel.

VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., TUESDAY, JUNE 11, 1867. NO. 259.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

THE DUTY OF THE HOUR.

The Richmond Times has the following sensible and timely observations on this subject, which we commend to the attention of our people generally:

"The triumph of a party like that which has made a terrestrial Inferno of Tennessee, would crush the mechanic by completely paralysing the energy of the capitalist, and drive the wealthy from the State by the wolfish agrarianism which it would inaugurate. We do not ask every Virginian to aid us with all the force of talents, energy, public spirit and means with which God has blessed him in making the registration as complete as possible, for the purpose of denying to the negro a single right which can be claimed for him as an incident of his liberty. By no means. But we wish, when a complete and thorough registration has revealed the strength of the white men in this State, to teach the blacks by our liberality towards them, that their best friends are their former masters. When we have demonstrated to the deluded negro followers of the demoralized white men who have poisoned their minds against us, that we are master of the situation, we can afford to make the lesson of our magnanimity and justice imperative.

If the white men of this State, who have not been disfranchised, will take care to register and vote, they will not only secure, beyond the possibility of danger, their political rights and property, but they will be in condition to aid in the work of speedy registration upon terms not as disadvantageous as they would be made by the triumph of Radicalism.

It is full time, also, that the people should be selecting able, fair-minded and Conservative candidates for the Convention. We should not be governed by the political antecedents of those candidates, when the required qualities for a good delegate are found, combined with eligibility for the position.

We can only have peace, good will and unity of action and purpose, by forgetting the past. Old party lines and old party prejudices should go the way of those dead principles which we only remember as relics of "the world before the deluge" of civil war swept its bloody waves over us for four years.

Proscriptive as the military act is, it fortunately does not distrub the eligibility of hundreds of able men in all parts of the State. In every county there are many gentlemen who would make good delegates to the Convention, and who have the confidence of both races. They may not have been distinguished in the past either as brave soldiers or as fluent political orators, but they are men whose integrity, sound judgment, and business talents have made them the trusted advisers of neighbors and friends. Ordinarily this class of gentlemen shrink from the noise and excitement of a political contest, and in soliciting several of them to become candidates for the Convention, we have encountered a deep rooted reluctance to do so, which we have profoundly regretted.

We think that no honest, sensible, conservative Virginia gentleman, whose known integrity and ability have secured him the confidence of both races, should refuse his services to Virginia at this time. Where it is evident that he can help his race and the State of his birth or residence, no citizen of Virginia should decline the call of his county or district and refuse to become a candidate for the Convention. At a time like this he has no more right to refuse than a soldier has to lead a charge, or a clergyman to deny his pious services to the sick. We do not suppose that any Virginia gentleman will derive pleasure or satisfaction from being a member of a Convention called by a military ruler who is enforcing an act of Congress with the bayonet, but the question to be considered is one of grave and imperative duty and not of pleasure or of mere ambition."

"A LEAGUE IN ALABAMA COME TO GRIEF."

Under the above heading the Montgomery Mail says:

"The secret society framed by the Yankees for the purpose of controlling the vote of the colored people has come to grief at Autaugaville. The honest portion of the members who joined, as they believed, a simple Union society, finding that it was intended to bind the conscience of the men, and compel them to vote the Republican ticket, have bolted the concern, and broken it into flinders in Augusta county. Wyatt Golson, a renegade Confederate soldier, who is reported to have participated in the hanging of some Union citizens near Blue Mountain, during the war, and who, since the war, has been a "loud mouthed Loyalist" so-called, and right bower of Gen. Swayne's party for that county, having made threats against the respectable citizens who refused to join his secret league, a large number of the whites and negroes turned against him, left the society, and denounced the whole thing as a swindle, gotten up by the Radicals to control the votes of the colored men.

"We are glad to make the announcement, and would caution all respectable people from having any connection with so nefarious a concern."

The fate of the "Autaugaville League" foreshadows the fate of all such secret political societies in the South. One by one these Radical clubs will crumble to pieces until not one of them will be left.

The Boston Post recently referred to Mr. Stevens' new work on "confiscation" in the following gentle language:

"The amiable Mr. Thaddeus Stevens continues his epistolary exercise, wherein he displays as much patriotism and courage as he did when he rebelled against the State Government of Pennsylvania, jumped from the State House window and ran away from his confederates; and as much wisdom and statesmanship as when he undertook by an act of Congress to make paper currency equal in value to gold. He complains of a diseased body, but it is his mind that needs the healing balm of kindness and reason. It is anger, desire for revenge, that is consuming him—drying up the fountains of his life and leaving his heart charred into blackness. To behold a feeble old man moved only by convulsive spasms of hate, and breathing only maledictions where a Christian soul would implore mercy, is very melancholy, and can but excite pity for that perverse depravity which allows his spirit to so nearly approach its final accountability with fiendish passions torturing it to madness."

"THE CHURCH OF THE STRANGERS,"

NEW YORK,

REV. DR. DEEMS, PASTOR.

STRANGERS visiting New York are respectfully informed that a congregation, composed of Christians of different Protestant denominations, has been organized under the pastoral charge of the Rev. CHARLES F. DEEMS, D. D., of North Carolina. Visiting clergymen of the several churches are invited to officiate. No sectarianism, no partisan politics, will be allowed to interfere with the worship.

The service is held morning and night in the Large Chapel of the University, immediately West of the New York Hotel.

The Pastor's residence and post office address is 221 WEST 34th STREET. Strangers in the city, who are sick or in distress, may freely call upon Dr Deems for pastoral service.

When any member of any church comes to New York to engage in business, let him call promptly on the Pastor of the Church of the Strangers.—Especially let this be done in the case of young men who will have a cordial welcome.

Newspapers through the country, friendly to the enterprise, will please copy this advertisement and allow it to stand.

Grateful for the flattering patronage with which we have heretofore been so kindly favored, we respectfully solicit an increased share of the patronage of the citizens of Raleigh and the surrounding country. Without especially goazing, we deem it sufficient to say, that our stock mostly embraces such articles as are usually found in Family Groceries. Most of our goods have been recently bought in New York and Baltimore, for cash, and we hope to be able to sell them on satisfactory terms. In addition to our stock of Groceries, &c., we have a fine lot of

HATS AND READY MADE CLOTHING

and a splendid lot of Confectioneries, consisting of

PLAIN AND FANCY CANDIES, RAISINS, ORANGES, FIGS, NUTS AND BRANDY PEACHES, &c., all of which will be sold on reasonable terms.

We have also a fine lot of genuine Durham Smoking Tobacco, which we can implicitly recommend to "those who smoke." Please call and see us.

We will pay particular attention to all consignments of Produce and Merchandise entrusted to our care and will endeavor to sell at the best market prices. Consignments are respectfully solicited. By a prompt and close attention to business and fair dealing with all, we hope to merit and receive a share of public patronage.

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the maker stars that overcame or predominate in the conception—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

There cometh glad tidings of joy to all,
To young and to old, to great and to small;
The beauty which once was so precious and rare,
Is free for all, and all may be fair.

By the use of

CHASTELLAR'S

WHITE LIQUID

ENAMEL,

For improving and beautifying the complexion. The most valuable and perfect preparation in use, for giving the skin a beautiful pearl-like tint, that is only found in youth. It quickly removes Tan, Freckles, Pimples, Blotches, Moth, Patches, Sallowness, Eruptions, and all impurities of the skin, kindly healing the same, leaving the skin white and clear as alabaster. Its use can not be detected by the closest scrutiny, and being a vegetable preparation, is perfectly harmless. It is the only article of the kind used by the French, and is considered by the Parisian as indispensable to a perfect toilet. Upwards of 30,000 bottles were sold during the past year, a sufficient guarantee of its efficacy. Price only 75 cents. Sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of an order, by

The Great Southern Tonic,

AND THE MOST PALATABLE STOMACHIC EVER USED,

FOR THE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA, DISORDERed Digestion, Flatulency, Sluggish Circulation of the Blood, Bilious Complaints arising from a morbid condition of the stomach and bowels. An Elegant Tonic in debilitated states of the Digestive Organs, or of the system generally.—For the loss of appetite it is the most wholesome and effectual Tonic in the world. It strengthens nature and enables the system to triumph over disease. In wakefulness attended with tremors and general nervous derangement, it is peculiarly adapted, giving strength and tone to the nerves. To delicate Ladies and Children it is invaluable—and in fact whenever a pleasant and agreeable Tonic is wanted, this should be used.

Dr. Johnston B. Jones, one of the most scientific and well known Physicians in the Southern states, testifies to its great value, besides many others who have been greatly benefited by the use of these Bitters.

RECONSTRUCTION.

We do not hesitate to express the opinion, upon the basis of the Attorney General's exposition of the Reconstruction Acts of Congress,—leaving out of view the undecided question as to the disfranchisement of magistrates, or even assuming that they come within the inhibitory clauses of those Acts,—that if those of our people, who are privileged to do so, will only register and vote, we can rescue the State from the horrors of ultra-Radical rule. To accomplish this result, however,—a result so essential to the peace of society, the conservation of order and public morals, and the stability of the government itself,—it is necessary that there should be no divisions among the conservative voters of the State. We think it more than probable, from the best information we have been able to obtain, that a large element of the Radical party in North Carolina will be induced to array itself, at the polls, against a Convention, in order to defeat reconstruction, and thereby, if possible, provoke confiscation or harsher disfranchisements. In view of such indications, we regard it as of prime importance that, merging all objection to the palpable unconstitutionality and injustice of the conditions imposed, all the peaceable and well-disposed of our citizens, white and black, who are allowed to do so, should promptly unite in carrying them out. This will be the course of many moderate Republicans, who are sincerely desirous of restoration, and who, while they are anxious to secure the ascendancy of the party organization, with which they are at present affiliated, have no purpose beyond the strict terms of the legislation of Congress.—Let us address a few words of soberness and truth to our friends on this subject.

There are three considerations, which influence those who are honestly indisposed to take part in the work before us, or who are inclined, if they take any part, to vote against a Convention:

1. They question the finality of the legislation of Congress, and are unwilling, where there is no guarantee of a cessation of the controversy, to make such concessions as are there exacted.

2. Even if there was a certainty of finality, they are not willing, voluntarily, to endorse their own humiliation.

3. They prefer an indefinite continuance of military rule to the state of things that will result from the simple execution of the Congressional programme.

As to the first of these propositions, we can only say that we do not pretend to be able to fathom the ulterior designs of the Radical leaders in Congress. Nor have we any confidence in their honesty or sincerity. But if a solemn public assurance can mean anything, then are they unequivocally committed to make a compliance with the requirements prescribed a settlement of the issue. The text of the law, the declarations of the prominent Radicals, except Stevens and Sumner, and perhaps one or two others, and the general tone of the Republican press, plainly indicate that it was intended as a finality, that it is at present so regarded, and that the Congress will be held to its observance as such. There are reasons growing out of the straitened financial situation of the country, and the unsettled condition of its industrial interests, as the natural results of the political uncertainties of the hour, which will of themselves impel the dominant power, in our opinion, to regard its pledges and welcome a composition of our troubles on its own terms, or which, even if Congress were reluctant to do this, will bring a public sentiment to bear that will compel it. But suppose that we are mistaken in all this. In the eye of history and the world, we already occupy the vantage ground of having been faithful to the spirit of our capitulation and of having honestly fulfilled all the obligations that defeat imposed.—We can continue to make all honorable efforts to effect the restoration of quiet and union,—leaving the consequences of their failure upon the heads of those who have heretofore sacrificed the interests of the country to party.

With regard to the second objection, it is sufficient to say that it is founded upon erroneous premises. The question is not one of voluntary acceptance, and, consequently, whatever of humiliation is involved,—and we would not palliate or underrate it—is not of self-imposition. When the Howard amendment was presented as a matter of choice, the case was materially and essentially different, and our people did right in rejecting it. But the Reconstruction Acts of Congress have been made, by those having the power so to order, the supreme law of the land. We are commanded to do certain things,—there is no apparent option,—and we must comply, "lest a worse thing befal us."

Finally, if there be any one thing obnoxious to all the ideas of Republicanism, and which a people, who entertain any hope, however faint, of ever again living beneath even the shadow of constitutional freedom, should wish to see numbered with the things that were, it is the arbitrary rule of military power. Besides, as matters stand now,—even if military rule should not become more stringent,—what more could the most ultra Radical State Convention do, under the terms of the Reconstruction Act, than obtains at present?—The colored people have the right to sit on juries; the right to hold any civil office; the right to hold any licensed calling; rights on every public conveyance equal to those enjoyed by the whites; and as, under the military law, they have already the fixed right to vote at all elections, what more could be granted to them by a State Convention, than they now enjoy? But military rule does much more than all this. It sets aside the Courts; it institutes new and strange tribunals for the punishment of offences; and the imminents of civil liberty, as the experience of the world demonstrates, can no more withstand its assaults, than wooden ramparts the mighty ordnance of modern warfare. Better civil rule in any form, say we, than the purely military.

A QUESTION.—In the U. S. Circuit Court, at Richmond, on Thursday last, the administrators of a Mrs. Keppel, of Philadelphia, vs. the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad Company, filed a bill to recover her dividends from the Company. She was a stockholder in the Road, holding 304 shares, the par value of which was $30,400, and on which dividends to the amount of $33,136 had been declared since 1861.—The Company allege that, by an order of the District Court of the Confederate States, the dividends in question were turned over to the Confederate government, and a portion of the stock was forfeited and sold, because the owner was an alien enemy; and further, that if the complainants can lawfully claim the dividends, they must receive it in Confederate money, the only money made by the Company on the profits of the Road.

The case has been argued, but we have not seen the positions of the contestants.—The important question involved in the case is, was the Confederate a government de facto?

TRIAL OF SURRATT.

It is understood that Surratt was to be put on his trial yesterday, for alleged participation in the murder of President Lincoln. Meantime a correspondent of the New York Herald, who writes with a strong radical bias, is making some singular statements. He says that all consider him a trembling coward, and that calculations are made accordingly. We copy the following:

The aim of those who are managing the prosecution is not to convict Surratt with a view of causing him to expiate his crime on the gallows, but in order that they may, after his conviction, by offering him immunity, which can be secured by an act of Congress, obtain from him disclosures and facts implicating Jeff. Davis in the assassination, which it is confidently believed the abject coward would readily give to save his own life.

[After affirming a belief that Surratt's counsel entertain the same opinion of him, he continues:]

It is well known that overtures have been made to Surratt to the effect that if he would disclose the names of all who participated in the assassination conspiracy, and the part taken by each, which it is believed would implicate Mr. Davis, a sol. pros. would be entered in his case, and an act passed by Congress relieving him of all legal responsibility on account of his participation in the atrocious crime. These overtures, it is further known, were made through Father Walters, the Catholic Priest who attends Surratt, and Miss Surratt, who daily visits her brother in his cell. How the proposal was received when presented by Father Walters, or what advice, if any, was given by his reverence, is not positively known, their interviews being entirely private.

[Remarks alleged to have been made to his sister, and overheard by the turnkey, are quoted to show that Surratt will perhaps close with the overtures made to him. Then comes the following:]

But I am permitted to say to the public that in the event of Surratt's conviction inducements will be held out to him, or rather that the privilege will be allowed him, to divulge the names of his conspirators; and if among them shall appear the names of any of the distinguished personages suspected, and he can furnish or refer to even prima facie evidence of the truth and correctness of his disclosure, his life will be spared, to the end that his exalted, and if possible, more criminal accomplices may be brought to justice.

We had hoped that the disgraceful days of Conoverism were over, and that we were to have no more cases of subornation of perjury! It is evidently supposed that in Surratt, they have a man who loves his life more than Conover loved money; and if the latter would testify falsely for a money bribe, why may not Surratt speak as wished, under the greater inducement?

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND.—We take pleasure in transferring to our columns, from the Baltimore Gazette, the following commendation of the School of Medicine of the University of Maryland. Baltimore has the strongest claims upon our patronage and support in all respects:

"The School of Medicine of the University of Maryland has just issued its sixtieth annual circular in anticipation of the coming session of 1867-68. It gives us pleasure to note the flourishing condition of this institution and to know there is every probability that it will soon attract to this city a very large proportion of the students from the South, who, but for the events of the war, would have gone to more Northern cities. Most of the Professors are well known to the people of our State and a number of them are known by reputation to the whole medical fraternity throughout the country. One of them, Dr. Wm T. Howard, is a stranger here, having been only appointed lately, but we learn that he was regarded in North Carolina and the neighboring States as one of the ablest and most thoroughly educated physicians in that section and his colleagues here agree that he is eminently to be so considered. There are now one hundred and eighty-five students connected with the College, more than sixty of them being from States south of Maryland. Every facility for the acquisition of a thorough practical education is offered to them, as they have access to the large Hospital attached to the College, to the Bay View Hospital, St. Agnes' Hospital, to those connected with the Home of the Friendless and the St. Vincent Foundling Asylum and also to the Baltimore Special Dispensary.

A few years ago the students from the South who were in constant attendance at the medical schools of Philadelphia and New York numbered many hundreds. Now that the Baltimore College is not only conducted by Professors who rank as high as any in the North, but presents so many other advantages for the prosecution of their studies, we may reasonably expect soon to see its list of students very considerably enlarged. We have every hope that in the course of a few years we shall have in Baltimore a Medical College as large and of as high reputation as any that exists in the country."

For the Sentinel.

COMMENCEMENT AT THE UNIVERSITY.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.,
Friday, June 7th, 1867.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—The problem is approaching a solution—I mean the problem proposed here in 1859, by Dr. Hooper, to the Professor of Astronomy,—"Does Chapel Hill lie in the path of a planet or in that of a comet?" According to the two observations then known, "it lies right in the orbit of Jupiter and his satellites, and the period of its revolution is about twelve years." But the third—the discriminating observation—places our village on the track of a comet whose revolutions are quickening, the last having been accomplished in eight years. Now if Meyer's theory be true, and the comets, by falling into the centre of their orbits, change their motion into heat and light and life, some of us hope to see the President of the United States back here in 1871,—Heaven having heard Dr. Hooper's prayer and averted the omen he feared. In 1847, President Polk found at the University 155 students and a Faculty of nine members. In 1859, President Buchanan met there 456 pupils and seventeen teachers. But in 1867, President Johnson saw a total of only 128 as learners, and eight as their instructors; while but seven of the Trustees could come to inspect the condition of their charge, inquire into the reasons therefor, and suggest appropriate remedies. Nevertheless, others came from afar, and in large numbers, of the fair and the brave, and as usual, Commencement week at Chapel Hill richly repaid those who came to see and to get friends, sons and sweethearts.

Until a short time before Commencement, it was confidently hoped that Gov. Wise, of Virginia, would deliver the Annual Address before the Literary Societies. Other claims on his time unexpectedly prevented him from fulfilling his promise, and the Society, whose orator he was to be, from supplying his place. The Rev. J. McDaniel, the well known Pastor of the Baptist Church in Fayetteville, N. C., preached the sermon to the graduates on Wednesday morning. His text was from Luke 10:42: "But one thing is needful." This one thing was clearly and gracefully set forth as "Moral Culture," which, by itself, is sufficient to save us from ultraism in our opinions, from the dangers of a merely intellectual culture, from an ill conceived liberalism, from the weakness of a falsely balanced soul, and from well grounded apprehensions concerning the next sphere of our existence. An earnest appeal to the Trustees to see to it that this moral culture was properly secured at the University, and to the Faculty to be as earnest in their labors for this end as was their late lamented colleague, closed a sermon that was listened to with marked attention,—the surest proof of the power of a preacher and an excellent sign of relish for his doctrines. No such merely vocal sacred music was ever heard in the Chapel of the University as that which accompanied the sermon. It was truly exquisite, though proceeding from male voices only. The Messrs. Wilson, who have for several years been devoting their time to the cultivation of this department of music, showed by this exhibition on the part of their pupils that they possess rare taste and skill in their profession. The violin and the voice are proper instruments for the exhibition of a correct taste and the gratification of a delicate ear. These are the only instruments that can give shade to sound. Pianos and flutes and guitars—better notes ready made and mechanically precise. To use them aright requires that players be ingenious. But genius finds its full scope where the gradations of tone are infinite. I wish that our earthly angels would give us more music out of their sweet mouths and less out of their pretty fingers. But we will take the latter, if we cannot get the former.

On Wednesday night, the Rev. Prof. Hepburn delivered, at the request of the Trustees of the University, a discourse setting forth the claims of the State Rev. Dr. Phillips to remembrance as a Scholar, a Teacher a Divine, and as a Man. As this address will be published, an engraving from the portrait it presents will not be necessary for your readers.—All who knew Dr. Phillips declared that it was singularly felicitous, at once just and delicate, the product of a head and heart that appreciates and admires industry, truthfulness, and piety. Dr. Phillips came to our State, in 1826, and it was remarked by one of the Trustees of the University, that in one and the same year the road to Chapel Hill saw President Johnson going out, to show the seas of North Carolina what they could do, and Professor Phillips coming in, to show them what they ought to do.

The audience in and around the Chapel on Thursday, was very large and brilliant—Many brave knights were there, because there were many fair ladies. On the stage were President Johnson and Secretaries Seward and Randall, Gen. Sickles and Governor Worth, Judge Battle, the President of the University, the Chaplain of the day, (Rev. Dr. Hubbard,) and the orators from among the graduates. On the floor of the Chapel were Trustees Hassell, Cameron and Shober, Mr. Battle, the Treasurer of North Carolina, Colonel Bumford, General Avery, and other officers of the U. S. A., Colonel Morehead, General Barringer, and other officers of the late C. S. A., Gov. Clark and his associates who form the Committee of the legislature to enquire into the past management and present condition of the University—besides famous teachers, with the learned lawyers, physicians and divines whom they once taught.

The exercises of the day were according to the following programme:

FORENOON.

1. Latin Salutatory.—GEORGE M'NEILL ROSE, Fayetteville.
2. Napoleon at St. Helena.—WILLIS ALSTON, Halifax Co.
3. The Athenian Republic.—WILLIAM HENRY MILLER, Shelby.
4. The Achievements of Hannibal.—ALBERT GALLATIN CARR, Chapel Hill.
5. The Love of Money.—WINFIELD SCOTT GUTHRIE, Chapel Hill.
6. Hopes and Disappointments of Life.—JOHN GRAHAM YOUNG, Charlotte.

AFTERNOON.

1. The Pleasures of Memory.—ROBERT WORK MEANS, Concord.
2. Civilization.—WILLIAM HICKS REEVES, Tennessee.
3. Emancipation.—JAMES BILLINGSLEA MITCHELL, Alabama.
4. Annual Report.
5. Degrees Conferred.
6. The Valedictory.—PATRICK HENRY WINSTON, Bertie Co.

Of these speakers, Messrs. Reeves and Mitchell were excused from performing the duties assigned them—the former because of sickness—the latter because other duties detained him at home. The Salutatory was praised because as usual the audience did not know what else to do with it. Some said that the Valedictory was the best they ever heard. At the close of it, Secretary Seward, in behalf of the Valedictorian's father, presented the winner of the four year's race an elegant gold watch and chain, of American Manufacture. President Johnson, who had paid marked attention to the oration, also rose, and, shaking hands with Mr. Winston, congratulated him on his success.

From the Annual Report I extract the following statements, as creditable to the young gentlemen, gratifying to their friends and interesting to the patrons of the University. At the close of its College career, Mr. Winston was accounted the best, Mr. Rose the second best, and Mr. Means the third best scholar in a class of ten. Because of the turbulence of the times while it was in College, no accurate account of the punctuality of its members could be kept. Mr. Means was the only member of the class so fortunate as to be present at each of its eight semi-annual examinations. Mr. Miller, who although a good scholar, could not, as a member of only one year's standing, compete for honors in scholarship, was the only member not absent from a duty during the senior year. After Mr. Means and Mr. Miller, Mr. Winston was the most punctual member of the class.

Among the twenty-two regular Juniors, the first rank in scholarship was "assigned in the order of their names" to Messrs. Maverick, Busbee, Burgwyn and Morehead. The second to Mr. Harper, and the third to Messrs. Battle, Fetter, A. Graham, Horner, Jones, McNeill and Strayhorn. Mr. P. B. Means obtained the first distinction in Latin, the second in the Bible, German and Greek, and the third in Chemistry.

Of the Juniors, Messrs. Harper and Latta were absent from no duty during the year. Mr. Pearson from none that he could possibly attend. Messrs. Maverick and Purcell were absent only five times each. Messrs. Battle, Burgwyn, Busbee, Fetter, Graham, G. Graham, Horner, Means, Morehead and Watson were also mentioned as worthy of honor for punctuality.

There were twenty-two regular members in the Sophomore class. The best scholars in the class were J. W. Fries and J. M. Webb. "The second mite" was won by Messrs. Porter, Stevenson and Walker.—The third by Messrs. Cochran, Graham, Murchison and J. C. Webb.

Messrs. Cowper and Wilson were declared to be of the first rank in the languages (which declaration made some ask what was their rank in Mathematics,) and Mr. Little of the third in Mathematics and Modern languages.

Messrs. Bitting, Bledsoe, Cochran, Fries, Stancell and Stevenson won the "first mite" in punctuality by being always present at prayers, preaching and recitation during the year. Messrs. Cowper and Murchison were always present when able to attend.—Mr. Means "snapped" four times and Mr. McNider eight times because of sickness.—Messrs. Estes, Graham and Porter were entirely punctual during the last term of the year. Messrs. Jones, Little, Maverick, J. M. Webb and J. C. Webb were also honorably mentioned because of their punctuality.

The Freshman class numbered twenty-eight regulars. The first quarter of their race in scholarship was won by Messrs. Buchanan and Lewis, who came out ahead of all the rest. Next to them were Messrs. J. Battle and Winston; and next to them Messrs. Lindsay, Malloy, McKay and Moore. Mr. Yellowley was counted among the second best in the languages and Mr. Ferebee among the second in Greek. Mr. Siler came out second best in Mathematics and Mr. Sloan among the thirds.

When I joined College, just thirty years ago, first mite in punctuality had to be won by attending prayers at sunrise and preaching in the Chapel, summer and winter—in cold and in heat. It requires no such self-denial to go to prayers at 9 A. M., and to preaching wherever there are the most pretty girls. Nevertheless, five of these freshmen, viz: Messrs. Buchanan, Cook, Ferebee and Powell, and Captain Noble were always present when the roll was called, and Messrs. McKay and Winston absent only twice. Mr. Mitchell was absent thrice from recitation and Mr. Rives, (of the first nine in the base-ball club) four times during the year. Messrs. Livingston, Lindsay, Moore and Shaw have always been present since they entered College at the beginning of this term.

Besides the regular Baccalaureates the same degree was conferred causa honoris on Mr. William R. Webb, formerly a student of the University and now a successful teacher in our State. The Master's degree was conferred on the following graduates:

The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on the Rev. Richard Hines, of Memphis, Tenn., who graduated at the University in 1850, was afterwards one of its tutors, and is now an honored and acceptable Divine of the Episcopal Church.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred on the Hon. William H. Seward, Secretary of State for the United States.

The usual declamations for Commencement week were exhibited on Monday and Tuesday nights according to the following schemes:

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 3, 1867.

1. American Independance—JAMES B. YELLOWLEY, Greenville.
How are the Mighty Fallen—ANDREW M. CRAIG, Alamance County.
The South wants a Poet—STEPHEN W. NOBLE, Lenoir County.
Free Discussion—WILLIAM BUCHANAN, Richmond County.
Irish Enthusiasm—JAMES A. SMITH, Robeson County.
The true sphere of Woman—WILSON J. M'KAY, Harnett County.
2. Mississippi Contested Election—KNOX LIVINGSTON, Florida.
The Psalms—DANIEL A. LONG, Alamance County.
The destiny of the Human Race—WILLIAM A. SHORTER, Alabama.
Death of Lafayette—REUBEN C. SHORTER, Alabama.
Irish Aliens—NELSON M. FEREBEE, Camden County.
The Maniac—QUINTUS P. SILER, Alabama.

TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 4, 1867.

1. Academical Education—GEORGE H. ESTES, Georgia.
The Polish Insurrection—JOSEPH C. WEBB, Hillsboro.
On the Amendment of the Constitution—WILLIE H. MAVERICK, Texas.
America—EDMUND JONES, JR., Caldwell County.
Catholic Emancipation—PETER M. WILSON, Warrenton.
Liberty and Revolution—PLATT D. WALKER, Wilmington.
2. Love of Country—V. ST. CLAIR M'NIDER, N. C.
Woman Suffrage—SAMUEL T. BITTING, Surry County.
North Carolina—WILLIAM H. BLEDSOE, Raleigh.
We need Statesmen—JAMES M. MEANS, Concord.
Scotland—ALEXANDER GRAHAM, Cumberland County.
Address in behalf of the Greeks—CHARLES F. M'KESSON, Morganton.

Some of these speeches must be very easy to speak, especially at Chapel Hill; they have been spoken there so often. I tried some of them myself nearly thirty years ago. On this occasion there was more good speaking among the Freshmen than among the Sophomores. The best judges, that I heard criticise these efforts, declared Mr. Wilson and Mr. Buchanan to be the best speakers in their respective classes. The graceful ness of Mr. McNider's manner pleased many of the ladies, while Messrs. Smith, McKay, Livingston and especially Mr. Siler had their warm admirers. For myself, I judge an adequate conception of the spirit and aim of a speech, proper emphasis in utterance and distinctness of articulation as of far greater importance than tip toeings or graceful and multitudinous swingings of the arms.

Have the Faculty and students at our University no other use for their Juniors than to set them to wearing broad straps on their shoulders as marshals, or neat pumps on their feet as ball managers? Don't the Juniors carry any thing in their heads that is worthy of manifestation? In other days the Societies were proud of their Juniors, and had them for their representatives. What the Juniors did at this time, as marshals and managers, they did so as to gratify their friends, as they had often done at other times. Will not the Societies be as well represented, and friends as much gratified, if the men of Metaphysics, and Logic and Rhetoric show that they can marshal arguments and manage a debate in as good order and with as much courtesy as they do a procession or a dance?

Of course the President and his party were the observed of all observers—and of all listeners they were the most attentively listened to when they became speakers. The President joined the Dialectic Society and Mr. Seward, Mr. Randall and Colonel Bomford the Philanthropic. Much of what they said while at Chapel Hill has already appeared in your columns, being reported by far better practiced pens than mine. While President Johnson alluded to the difficulties that beset his own career and exhorted his young countrymen to love the truth and be firm in its defence, I thought of George Stephenson, the wonderful Collier's boy of England, who by steadfastness to principle, amidst storms of obloquy and still rougher persecutions, has succeeded in revolutionizing the commerce of the world. George Stephenson clave constantly to what is good and true in the new—President Johnson contends earnestly for what is good and true in the old. The Engineer devised and advocated a deliverance for the masses of his countrymen from the tyrranny of capital. The Statesman pleads for liberty from the bondage of ideas. The man of iron and engines brought the homes of the people close together. The man of Law and Right labors to bring their hearts together. As the Railroads of Stephenson permeate and enrich our plains and vallies and mountains, so may the thoughts of our President penetrate and fraternize our minds, and hearts, and lives!

GEN. SICKLES' GENERAL ORDER, NO. 33.

HEADQ'RS SECOND MILITARY DISTRICT,
Charleston, S. C. May 30th. 1867.

GENERAL ORDERS,
No. 33.

The following named persons are hereby appointed and constituted a board to report, for the consideration and the action of the Commanding General, needful arrangements, rules, regulations and forms of proceeding for registration:

Brevet Col. W. B. Royall, U. S. A., Major 5th. Cavalry, Chief of the Bureau of Civil Affairs, President.
H. H. Helper, of Salisbury, North Carolina.
Jefferson Fisher, of Raleigh, N. C.
J. W. Cardoza, of Charleston, S. C.
Samuel Boozer, of Lexington, S. C.

The Board will convene and organize at the Citadel in Charleston, on the 7th. day of June, 1867, and sit from day to day until dissolved by orders from these Headquarters.

The Board will choose from their number a Recorder of their proceedings, and may employ a clerk, whose compensation shall not exceed three dollars a day.

The commanding officer of the Citadel will provide suitable apartments for the meetings of the Board.

The Assistant Adjutant General will provide, on the requisition of the Recorder of the Board, approved by the President, such stationery, books and printing as may be required, having a due regard to economy and the dispatch of business.

The compensation of the members (civilians) will be six dollars a day and commutation at the rate of ten cents a mile for each mile travelled, taking the nearest usual route from their respective places of residence to and from Charleston.

By command of Major General D. E. SICKLES:

J. W. CLOUS,
Captain 38th. Infantry,
A. D. C. & A. A. A. G.

OFFICIAL:

LIFE INSURANCE.

From the Wall Street Reporter.

Ætna Life Insurance Company.

THE ÆTNA LIFE PRESENTS THE MOST signal example of American progress and accumulative energy. Every branch and department of the institution appears to be replete with the most active vitality and growth, and the rapidity of its advancement is so great that it promises to eclipse all its competitors and to become, if it is not already, the first Life Insurance Company of America.

How nearly these presages are already accomplished and how certain they are of complete and speedy fulfilment, may be gathered from the following facts. In 1861 it issued 980 policies, the premiums amounting to but $79,251.67. Since that period its growth has been something altogether unprecedented in the history of Life Insurance, its business having been actually doubled, tripled, and, on one occasion, almost quadrupled, till it has culminated in the year, lastse of over fourteen thousand policies, insuring over forty million dollars, at the same time that it was the recipient of the annual revenue of over Three and a Half Millions of Dollars.

It accordingly appears that the Ætna Life insured last year, with one exception, the largest number of persons of any Company in the United States, and even as to amount insured it is surpassed by only two Companies, and it is probable that it would not have been exceided by them in this respect, if it were not deemed incompatible with its permanent interests to grant a single policy for a sum exceeding ten thousand dollars; for, although so remarkably progressive, the Ætna's course has always been equally prudent, safe and conservative. But certainly in its increase of business in 1866 over that of 1865, including the issue of policies, amount insured, and total income, when its position and that of other Companies at the commencement of last year are duly considered, it must be regarded, beyond comparison, as the most successful of all. The present year witnesses no abatement of this youthful vigor and growth. On the contrary, we learn that the Company's increase of business in 1867 is nearly double that of the corresponding months of 1866. The realization of the avowed purpose of the management of the Ætna Life to make their Company the first, largest and best in the Union, appears therefore to have become a part of the "manifest destiny of the nation."

It must be admitted that there is something truly inspiring in the contemplation of the noble achievements of this Company; for although the material progress it has made is measurable by the actuary, the good it has done and the good it is yet destined to accomplish, transcend the calculation of all but Omniscience. The battle's victory, the triumph of material art and science are less glorious than the conquests of genuine philanthropy, of which Life Insurance is perhaps the most perfect emanation. In all countries and in all times the widow and orphan have been regarded as special objects of solicitude and bounty by the good and great, and even in the dark ages, the dauntless and true knight added a crowning lustre to his fame by affording them relief and protection. Yet never until now—never until the complete establishment of Life Insurance, have the widow, orphan, and such dependants been justly, sufficiently, liberally and honorably provided for, and a Company like the Ætna Life, that takes the lead in this most beneficent work, is therefore deserving of all honor, praise and encouragement.

There is yet one feature peculiar to the Ætna Life entitled to especial commendation and that is its economy. In this regard, notwithstanding its activity, youth, growth, and amount of new business, it presents a remarkable exception, and the skill and care of its President, E. A. Bulkeley, Esq., and its actuaries and able Secretary, T. O Enders, Esq., are manifested in the success which has attended their efforts to unite in their management the qualities of extraordinary efficiency and strict economy. The ratio of the Ætna's expenses to premium and total income is lower than that of the Mutual Life, its Titanic rival, and, under the latter heading, less than that of the Connecticut Mutual, notwithstanding the advantages possessed by these companies in their great accumulation of many years' business; but, although the ratio of the Ætna's disbursements is now considerably below the general average, it might have been reduced below that of any but for its generous, and in many instances, most laudable practice of paying claims before maturity. It keeps no orphan or widow waiting for her insurance money, even when not yet legally payable. It consults the spirit and design of the institution rather than the policy of preparing materials for an attractive exhibit. This genial benevolence and liberal dealing render the company a great favorite with the public.

Similar commendation might be justly extended to its other popular features and reforms, including its non-forfeiture policies, its helpful credit given during the continuance of policy, its equitable division of all the profits among the insured, except the six per cent. on the stock capital, and its excellent and productive dividend system. The last feature has afforded great satisfaction to its members, for its dividend which is paid two years from date of policy and annually thereafter on the amount of premium," has this year, and for several years past, amounted to 50 per cent., and is paid promptly in the same year it is declared in cash on cash policies, or applied to the credit of those who have received credit.—We should, however, exceed the space to which we are restricted, if we were to enumerate the special advantages enjoyed by the members of the Ætna Life, who now number over thirty thousand, and who seem to fully appreciate their privileges, for they are the company's voluntary and in many instances most efficient agents, and assist in spreading its benefits with an earnestness and cordiality which speak well for their benevolence and volumes for the institution itself.

The Ætna Life is one of our soundest and safest Life corporations. It has over five million dollars securely invested, and a million dollars surplus above all liabilities, including the full value of all its existing policies. From every point of view this great Company displays features of special merit and unusual excellence; and if the prediction that its issue of policies during this year will amount to twenty-two thousand and its receipts to seven million dollars, should be fulfilled, it will get no more than its due—no more than the best friends of Life Insurance and of humanity (for they are identical) sincerely trust it will obtain and employ, as hitherto, to the advancement and elevation of society and eventually to the grateful relief and honorable maintenance of the widows and orphans of the provident and true hearted.

TUESDAY, JUNE 11, 1867.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Agricultural and Mechanical Ware-House: Mitchell, Allen & Co., Newbern.

The Mayor calls a meeting of the citizens for this evening.

Eligible town property in Albemarle, Stanly County, is offered for sale.

THE LATE FRESHET.—We are sorry to say that from every quarter, in this section, we hear of the most disastrous injury to the crops from the recent severe rain. All the crops in most of the low grounds are destroyed, and the wheat has suffered most severely. Truly, the prospect before us is one, every way, to excite grave apprehension and concern.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Phil. Lane, colored, charged with a misdemeanor, was released on payment of costs.

James Moon, colored, charged with a misdemeanor, was also released on payment of costs.

Richard Putney, charged with a misdemeanor, was fined $5.

Ed. Morse, charged with a misdemeanor, was also fined $5.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The Court was engaged on yesterday in the trial of an action for damages in assault and battery brought by Dr. DeRossett vs. Peyton A. Dunn. Col. E. G. Haywood appeared for the plaintiff and Messrs. Phillips and Battle for the defendant. The case had not been given to the jury, at the time of our making up the paper.

The following order has been made by the Court:

"It being considered by the Court that all persons born or naturalized in the United States, and residing in North Carolina, are citizens entitled to equal rights under the laws, and therefore equally concerned in the impartial administration of justice:

It is ordered, That henceforth, in summoning grand and petit jurors, the Marshal of the United States for the District of North Carolina make no distinction on account of color or race among citizens otherwise qualified to serve."

SUPREME COURT.—This tribunal met in this City, on yesterday,—all the Judges in attendance. A number of candidates for County Court licence were examined. The names of the successful applicants will be given in to-morrow's Sentinel.

REV. DR. LACY.—This venerable and excellent minister, who has been for some time severely afflicted with rheumatism, we are glad to learn has gone to the Virginia Springs for relief. We sincerely hope he will obtain entire relief, and that his health and useful life will be preserved for many years.

TRINITY COLLEGE.—The commencement exercises of this College will embrace Wednesday and Thursday of the present week. Rev. Bishop Pierce, of Georgia, will preach the annual sermon on Wednesday, at 11 o'clock, A. M., and W. Mac. Robbins, Esq., of Salisbury, will deliver the annual address, on Wednesday afternoon. Conveyances will be at High Point to meet every train on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

TYPHOID fever is said to be prevailing to an alarming extent in Washington city.—The physicians report hundreds of cases.

"PERSONNE," of the Charleston Mercury, gives an interesting account of the doings and sayings in this City, on the occasion of the recent visit of the President. Speaking of the dinner at the Yarborough House, gotten up by Mr. Blair, he says:

"Then came dinner—unofficial, quiet and excellent. The tables were decorated with flowers, the repast was generous and as much diversified as the ingenuity of the cook could make it, wines were abundant, the large dining hall, filled with guests, was disturbed only by the quiet sociability of elbow neighbors, and altogether it was an episode which did credit to the head and heart of Mr. Blair, now the presiding genius of the Yarborough Hotel—and the best institution of the kind in the old North State."

MEMORIAL.—The following lines were cast into the grave of Col. H. K. Burgwyn, on Sunday evening, by a lover of those who die in what they esteem a sacred cause:

PATRIÆ AMOR NUNQUAM DISCEDIT.

The Floral kingdom loads the air
With perfume from her countless flowers;
The odors filling Heaven so fair
Seem but the odors prized as ours.

Yet there reigns, 'tis fitly said,
A blossom more choice than others found;
That scents not till, with roughness bade,
Its leaves lie scattered on the ground.

So with the noble, Patriot dead,
We lay, to-day, amid this spot:
The Living die, (as thus two said:)
The Dying live—are ne'er forgot!

NEWBERN AND NO. 32.—The Newbern Republican says that the general closing up of the liquor saloons, in compliance with the requirements of the above order, has exhibited a marked change in the business aspects of that City. It adds:

"The Hotels, the only privileged places for the retailing of liquors by the drink, are reaping a rich harvest, and are crowded the most of the time. In our peregrinations, we have passed squads of laboring men on the streets who threaten to form themselves in to clubs and buy a gallon of liquor, or more, on Saturday evening, and then imbibe it on retirement.

The order may possibly defeat the very object it is intended to accomplish. There were more drunken men seen on our streets on Thursday, than at any time for three months previous."

So far as we have been able to learn, the order has not yet been carried into effect in this City.

HORRIBLE MURDER.—Mr. John Miller, and his wife, residing at their farm, eleven miles from Kinston, were brutally murdered by a party of negroes on Friday last. Mr. Miller was hung on a tree a short distance from the house, and Mrs. M. was shot through the head inside the dwelling. We have, as yet, no further particulars.

INTERFERENCE WITH CIVIL AUTHORITY.

The habit of removing civil officers is becoming chronic throughout the South.—General Sheridan, not satisfied with his previous performances in that way, has just removed the levee commissioners and Gov. Wells himself. We have small reason to regret the latter on his own account. He has borne himself unworthily in his high office, and in repeated instances has arrayed himself against the interests and the wishes of his people. His conduct at the hour of the riot was cowardly and unjust. But if he were the meanest Executive that ever disgraced the Executive chair, we should still protest against his removal. He was elected by the people of Louisiana after military resistance in that State was overcome, and at a time when it was recognized by President Lincoln as in the Union. According to our view of the Constitution Gen. Sheridan had no more right to depose him than he has a right to depose the Governor of New York. The personal or official character of the Executive has nothing to do with Sheridan's assumption of authority.—It is a gross assumption of power which ought to be sternly rebuked. We see, too, that Gen. Sickles has removed the mayor and civil authorities of Fayetteville, North Carolina. This is another arbitrary exercise of power. If these gentlemen have abused their offices, let them be held answerable to the law. We have had enough of military misrule, and if public opinion was in a healthy normal condition, these arbitrary acts would not be tolerated for a day, and the President would be compelled to correct them. But a nation that is satisfied with the arrest and two years' imprisonment, without trial, even of an unpopular and rebellious citizen, is not as sensitive to individual and official rights as it ought to be. The law should be paramount, and every good citizen should steadily and consistently demand its enforcement as well when it is abused on the person of the unpopular and obnoxious as when it is transcended on the person of those eminent and beloved for their virtues. We trust that the people will speak out. It is time that the nation was recovering from the madness engendered by the war, and that the inviolability of personal and official liberty should be maintained in the broadest and most uncompromising manner.—National Intelligencer.

THE CANVASS IN TENNESSEE.

KNOXVILLE, June 4.

The speaking here to-day was the grandest success of the canvass; the most complete and successful victory ever known in Knoxville by any party on any occasion. Etheridge's speech was clear, just, high-toned and telling. William B. Stokes was completely driven to the wall.

Before Stokes had done speaking all the white people, en masse, left him alone with his colored supporters.

I have heard of being crushed, annihilated and damaged in an argument, but never before did I fully realize the force of the language until I listened to Etheridge, his charges against Stokes, and the manner in which he pressed them upon him.

Stokes did not even attempt to disprove them or deny them.

Everything was orderly and quiet. The Conservatives are rejoicing, and the Radicals are completely broken and separated.

Maynard was most beautifully dissected

Dates from San Luis Potosi, Mexico, to the 17th ultimo, state that Maximilian's fate still hangs in the balance. Juarez and his ministers held a conference on the subject of a disposal of him, but the conclusion they arrived at is as yet unknown. In the meantime the imperial prisoner was looking well and would probably be taken to San Louis soon. It was thought that Juarez would carry him to the capital. The capture of Miramon with the rest was confirmed. Mendez, however, was nowhere to be found. Escobedo had issued an order that every imperial officer who had not surrendered within twenty-four hours should be shot, and another congratulating his troops on their victory.—New York Herald, 8th.

The Murfreesboro' (Tenn.) Monitor relates the following illustration of how folks don't register in Rutherford: "Mr. James Tessider, whose loyalty to the Union has never been impeached, applied to Sherbrooke for a certificate. He was accompanied, as vouchers, by two other gentlemen, who held certificates, and have always been consistent Union men. Mr. Tessidder was called to one side and asked if he would support Brownlow. Mr. T. said that he had voted for him in March, 1865, but that he could not now support him. He was then told that he could not get a certificate unless he would vote for Brownlow. His 'loyalty' was not questioned, nor was that of his vouchers, but he was not a radical, and must consequently forfeit his rights as a citizen."

Our correspondent in British Honduras, dating from Belize on the 16th of May, says: The Colonial Executive Council, having a great dread of the Indians, now propose to make a treaty with them. This is the last move, and will bring the English government in contact with that of Mexico on the subject of existing treaties. Perhaps Mexico may not be able to take her own part; but she may, and this act will likely be the means of carrying out the Monroe doctrine and making Mexico and the colony of Honduras part of the United States.—New York Herald, 8th.

It is confirmed that the insurgent Cretans have been victorious at all points over Omar Pasha, and that the Turkish army in the island has been badly beaten.

MEXICAN NEWS—ADDRESS OF MAXIMILIAN.

NEW ORLEANS, June 10.

Mexican dates to the 2nd. inst. have been received. Miramon is still dangerously ill from his wound. Mendez was executed by order of Escobado, on the 16th. ult. When Maximilian gave up the sword to Escobado, he said, "I surrender to you my sword, owing to an infamous treason, without which to-morrow's sun would have seen you in my hands."

Escobado ordered a Court Martial on the 29th ult., for the trial of the Emperor Maximilian.

The following are the number of officers surrendered: The Emperor, 14 Generals, 18 Colonels, 15 Lt. Colonels, 16 Brevt. Lt. Colonels, 36 Majors, 114 Captains, 416 Lieutenants, and 180 Second Lieutenants—Total 437.

The following is Maximilian's proclamation:

Countrymen: After the valor and patriotism of the Republican forces have destroyed my scepter in this place, which tenacious defense was indispensable, to save the honor of my cause and of my race; after the bloody siege in which the Imperial and Republican soldiers have competed in abnegation and boldness, I will explain myself.

Countrymen:—I came to Mexico not only animated with the best of faith insuring the felicity of all and each of us, but called and protected by the Emperor of France, Napoleon the III. He, to the ridicule of France, abandoned me cowardly and infamously by demand of the United States, after having uselessly spent forces and treasure and shed the blood of her sons and your own.—When the news of my fall and death reach s Europe, all the monarchs of Charlemagne's country will demand of the Napoleon dynasty an account of my blood, of the German, Belgian and French blood shed in Mexico. There will be the end.

Soon, before the whole world, Napoleon III will be covered with shame from head to foot. To-day, he has already seen his majesty, the Emperor of Austria, my august brother, praying for my life to the U. S., and myself a prisoner in the hands of a republican government and with my head and my crown torn in pieces.

Countrymen:—Here are my last words: I desire that my blood may regenerate Mexico and serve as a warning to all ambitious and incautious men, and that you will act with prudence and truthfulness, and ennoble, with your virtues the political course of the flag you sustain. May Providence save you, and make you worthy of myself.

The first six students in the graduating class at West Point are put down in the list as Southerners—two from Virginia, two from Georgia, one from Alabama and one from North Carolina. Uninformed persons might regard this as a sign of a restored Union, but when they learn that these cadets were appointed in the height of the war, a strong suspicion is aroused that not only these six young men, but the greater proportion of those who are credited to Southern States, are good Yankees who were appointed by Northern Congressmen.—*N. SPECIAL NOTICES

KNOW THY DESTINY.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. TUESDAY, JUNE 11, 1867.

A CONTENTED PROPRIETOR.

I have plenty of dutiful vassals,
Have plenty of gold, and to spare;
I have plenty of beautiful castles—
But my castles are built in the air!
And my vassals are all airy creatures,
From beatiful Dreamland are they;
They drive me to balls
And magnificent halls,
And tell me my coach stops the way!
But, oh! what a pest,
When it comes to the test
I am kept in a dreadful delay!
A plague on those wild little vassals!
You can't trust a word that they say,
And I've heard that my beautiful castles
Are sadly inclined to decay.

Father Wisdom advised me to sell them
To the public—a benefit clear—
And Fancy engaged so to sell them,
For Fancy's a fine auctioneer;
But the market by no means was lively,
For castles the call was but cold;
Lead and iron were brisk,
But gold none would risk
To invest on my battlements bold.
So my turrets, unbid,
I inhabit them yet,
And rather rejoice they're not sold,
And never a bit am down-hearted,
For my vassals still ply me with gold;
My castles and I shan't be parted
Till the heart of the owner be cold.

Again Father Wisdom addressed me—
He's a horrid old bore in his way—
He said rats and mice would infest me,
As crumbled my towers to decay.
"They never can crumble, good father;
They're lasting when once they're begun;
Our castle of air
We can quickly repair,
As the home of the spider's respun."
So homeward I went
To my castles content,
As the vesper-bell told day was done;
And they looked just as lovely as ever,
As burnished they stood in the sun.
Oh! ne'er from my castles I'll sever
Till the sands of my glass shall be run!

—All the Year Round.

ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS.

OPEN JUNE 1.

This favorite and delightful watering-place, having undergone thorough renovation, is prepared to receive visitors. The owners have made every effort in the outfit and equipment to render the place more than ever attractive to those in quest of recreation, while to the invalid its medicinal waters hold out new hopes of health. It may be confidently claimed for them that they have in a great many cases relieved, and in many more cases cured, the following diseases: SCROFULA, and many chronic CUTANEOUS diseases; CHRONIC THRUSH, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, DROPSY, AFFECTIONS OF KIDNEY and BLADDER, and PILES; and, in connection with the Hot Baths, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.

As an appetizer, a tonic, and general restorative to an enfeebled constitution, it is perhaps unrivalled amongst mineral waters. The proprietors have engaged for the approaching season both for the LAWN and the BALL-ROOM.

A VERY SUPERIOR BAND OF MUSIC,

THE BILLIARD AND BOWLING SALOONS, both for ladies and gentlemen, will be found in more complete order than ever before.

From the very extensive preparations now making at all the leading Virginia Springs, a heavy travel is anticipated, and, we think, will be attracted. It shall be the aim of the undersigned to keep their establishment FULLY UP TO THE FOREMOST; and they hope to see a renewal of the social re-unions which in former years lent such a charm to these mountain retreats.

Passengers by the Virginia Central railroad get off the cars at GOSHEN Depot, Eight (8) miles of staging over a smooth road lands them at the Springs.

BOARD, $3.50 PER DAY; $90 PER MONTH.

We have secured the efficient services of Captain WILLIAM H. SALE, so long and favorably known to the public, in connection with these Springs.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 32.

HEADQUARTERS, 2ND MILITARY DISTRICT,
Charleston, May 30.

General Orders No. 32.

1. Any citizen, a qualified voter according to the requirements of the Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2nd, 1867, and the act supplemental thereto, passed March 23rd, 1867, is eligible to office in the Provisional government of North and South Carolina. All persons appointed to office will be required to take the oath prescribed by the act aforesaid and to file the same duly subscribed and sworn with the Post Commander.

2. All citizens assessed for taxes, and who shall have paid taxes for the current year, are qualified to serve as jurors. It shall be the duty of the proper civil officers, charged with providing lists of jurors, to proceed within their several jurisdictions, without delay, and ascertain the names of all qualified persons, and place them on the jury lists, and from such revised lists all jurors shall be hereafter summoned, and drawn in the manner required by law.

3. All citizens are eligible to follow any licensed calling, employment or avocation, subject to such impartial regulations as may be prescribed by municipal or other competent authority, not inconsistent with common rights and the Constitution and laws of the United States. The bond required as security shall not exceed the penal sum of one hundred dollars. One or more sureties being citizens and worth, in the aggregate, double the amount of the bond, over and above just debts, will be sufficient.

4. The Mayors of cities and other municipal and town officers, and all Sheriffs, Magistrates and Police officers, are required to be vigilant and efficient in maintaining order, and in the discharge of their duties. They will be expected to co-operate with the military authorities.

5. Post commanders may summon to their aid, whenever the ordinary means at their disposal shall not be sufficient to execute their orders, such of the civil officers, and as many of the citizens, within the territorial limits of the military post, as may be necessary, and the neglect or refusal of any person to aid and assist in the execution of the orders of the Commanding officer will be deemed a misdemeanor, punishable by such fine and imprisonment as may be imposed by a military tribunal approved by the Commanding General.

6. No license for the sale of intoxicating liquors in quantities less than one gallon or to be drank on the premises shall be granted to any person other than an Inn-keeper. The number of such licenses shall be determined, and the fees to be charged for each license shall be prescribed and collected, by the municipal or town authorities and appropriated exclusively for the benefit of the poor. If any person shall be found drunk on the premises where liquor is sold, the license may be revoked by any magistrate. The tax imposed by the Internal Revenue laws of the United States is an additional charge and does not excuse the person from the observance of local regulations, nor exempt him from the payment of such other license fees as may be imposed by the municipal or other competent authorities.

7. All contracts hereafter made for the manufacture, sale or transportation, storage or insurance of intoxicating liquors shall within this military district be deemed and treated as against public policy, and no civil action, suit or proceedings for the enforcement of any such contract shall be entertained in any court.

8 In public conveyances on railroads, highways, streets or navigable waters, no discrimination because of color or caste shall be made, and the common rights of all citizens therein shall be recognized and respected. The violation of this regulation will be deemed a misdemeanor and render the offender liable to arrest and trial by a Military tribunal to be designated by the commanding General, besides such damages as the injured party may sue for and recover in the civil Courts.

9. The remedy by distress for rent is abolished. Where lands are leased, or let out for hire or rent, cotton, corn or other produce of the same, when severed from the land, may be impounded, but the same shall not be removed. Any cotton, corn or other produce so impounded shall be held as security for the rent or hire so claimed and may be sold in satisfaction of any judgment for the same, Provided, that any unsatisfied claim for labor bestowed upon the cultivation of such cotton, corn, or other produce, shall, in no case, be postponed to any demand for rent or hire. But to the extent of such claim for labor there shall be a lien on such cotton, corn and other produce having preference over any claim for rent or hire.

By command of
MAJ. GEN. SICKLES,
J. W. CLOUS, A. A. A. G.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th. section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as representatives of the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office." Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensati n to be paid to all delegates and other officers, and all agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

CAMPBELL EATON.

WOULD RESPECTFULLY INFORM THE public that he is prepared to execute jobs of

HOUSE PAINTING,

in the best style and at cheaper rates than any other workman in the City.

"Campbell" would refer for testimonials as to the character of his work to most of the gentlemen in the City—for whom he has heretofore done jobs. Orders left at Pescud's Drug Store will be attended to.

1867. SPRING TRADE. 1867.

ATTRACTIVE STOCK.

McILWAINE & CO.,
Wholesale Dealers in Foreign and Domestic
Dry Goods, Notions & Clothing,
NO. 79 SYCAMORE, and
NO. 1 TABB STREETS,
PETERSBURG, VIRGINIA.

Take pleasure in announcing to the trade that they have in store, ready for exhibition, a large assortment of embracing all articles usually kept in wholesale establishments. Their long business experience with the merchants of Virginia and North Carolina, has made them familiar with their wants; this, together with the advantages they possess in purchasing their supplies, enables them to offer goods at such prices as will insure satisfaction. They specially invite the attention of buyers to their extensive stock of

NEW SPRING GOODS,

READY-MADE CLOTHING,

manufactured expressly to their own order, which for style, workmanship and cheapness cannot be surpassed. They would also call attention to a full line of

NOTIONS,

All of which will be offered to purchasers on the very best terms, by Capt. Edward Graham and Mr. John McNeece, who have charge of the department.
